

Making Test Bookings

Developers who have used the current API can make test reservations by following these steps;

1. When making calls use the optional element from the API Specifications named TEST.
2. Use any valid credit card details. If the element 'test' is used in the call the payment gateway will not be notified of the reservation and no payment will be taken.
3. The location of where the successful booking will terminate will depend on the environment in which RMS is deployed.

- a. RMS Cloud

If the client is using RMS Cloud the test reservation will automatically drop into their RMS Training Database.

- b. Self Hosted (non Cloud)

If the client is using RMS Desktop the test reservation will automatically drop into their LIVE RMS database.

In this case the client will need to be notified of when test reservations will be made so that they may cancel the test reservations that are pushed through to their property.
